Welcome to South Australia

Being the most central of the Australian states, South Australia is well placed to welcome new migrants with its low cost of living, commitment to building a resilient, diverse and productive economy based on a highly skilled and innovative workforce across a wide variety of industry sectors.

The capital city, Adelaide, is consistently recognised as one of the top ten most liveable places in the world. It is renowned for its festivals, cultural life and sporting events.

Adelaide's high-tech growth industries include defence, space, technology and advanced manufacturing.

1.1 Regional South Australia

Regional cities include Mt Gambier in the State's south east, Murray Bridge in the Murraylands, Renmark, Loxton and Berri in the Riverland, Port Pirie, Port Augusta and Whyalla in the north and Ceduna in the far west. Additionally, there are a number of regional centres including Roxby Downs, Coober Pedy, and Quorn.

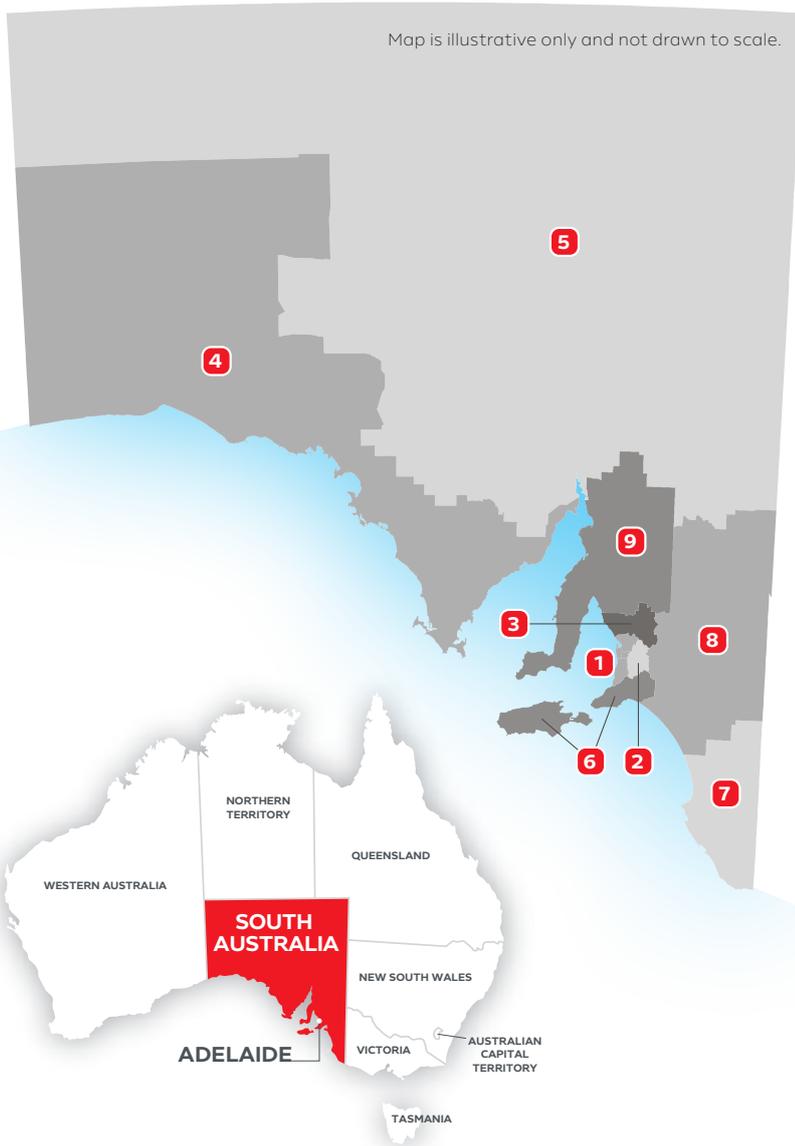

Many regional centres have available a wide range of education and health care facilities to meet the needs of the State's country population.

Smaller towns have a special place in the hearts of their residents – intensive community spirit and pride make small town living an enjoyable experience.

Key industries in South Australia include agribusiness, horticulture, viticulture (wine), aquaculture and fishing, construction and mining, health and social services, education, engineering, transport, tourism and hospitality.

Refer to the attached regional map summarising the areas of South Australia, or visit the Skilled & Business Migration website.

Map is illustrative only and not drawn to scale.

1.2 Climate

South Australia offers warm, dry summers and short, mild winters.

Summer is between the months of December to February. South Australian summers are dry and can get quite hot. The temperature in Adelaide is often above 35°C, however daily temperatures can get as high as 45°C. The sun can be extremely intense in Australia.

Autumn is between the months of March to May. There's a lot of sunshine and the weather usually stays in the low to mid 20s.

Winter is between the months of June to August. South Australia gets most of its rainfall during the winter months. Winter temperatures in South Australia hover around 15.9°C. It gets colder in the Adelaide Hills and the Outback, often dipping below 10°C.

Spring is between the months September to November. The average daily temperature in spring is a pleasant 21.7°C.

For more information about South Australian weather and climate, visit the Bureau of Meteorology website.

Housing and accommodation

The most widely used practice for finding a rental property or buying property is from real estate websites, newspapers and agents.

Short term accommodation

When looking to find accommodation in South Australia, there are many options available including short term or house-sharing offerings. The benefit of short term accommodation is that you give yourself time to work out where you want to live as you familiarise yourself in a new city.

There are websites available so it is important to do your research to find something that suits your needs and budget. Some suggestions include:

www.flatmates.com.au/adelaide

<http://sharehouses.com.au/adelaide>

www.realestate.com.au/share/adelaide-5000

www.airbnb.com.au

Long term housing

Searching for a rental house or an apartment requires you to consider many factors, for example, choosing a location that you like, that you can afford and that is close to all the amenities that you and your family may require such as schools, hospitals, shops, parks etc.

To access South Australia suburb profiles please visit:

<https://propertydata.realestateview.com.au/propertydata/suburb-profile/south-australia/>

Renting practicalities

- ▶ A tenancy lease agreement will need to be signed by the tenant and the landlord/agent
- ▶ All tenants will need to pay a tenancy bond or a deposit (usually 4-6 weeks rent) which is lodged with Consumer and Business Services (CBS) by the landlord or an agent. This bond is used as financial protection on case the tenant breached the tenancy agreement. The bond will be returned at the end of the lease period.
- ▶ Expect property inspections every 3-6 months, usually undertaken by the agent or landlord.

Rental and sale properties are available through real estate agents or private landlords in South Australia.

Information about private rental options and support, how to secure accommodation and landlord and tenant responsibilities can be found by visiting:

www.sa.gov.au/topics/housing/renting-and-letting/find-and-secure-a-place-to-rent

For more information visit:

www.migration.sa.gov.au/why-south-australia/live/lifestyle or www.realestate.com.au or www.domain.com.au

Both private tenants and landlords are protected by the Residential Tenancies Act 1995 that sets out the rights and obligations of both parties, for more details please visit:

www.cbs.sa.gov.au/renting-letting-advice

If you think you are treated unfavourably or unfairly by an agent/landlord, please contact:

- ▶ The Office of Consumer and Business Affairs: www.cbs.sa.gov.au/
- ▶ Equal Opportunity Commission: www.eoc.sa.gov.au

Stamp Duty on properties

If you are considering buying a property, be aware of transactional expenses that are in addition to the cost of your property. Stamp duty is a government tax paid by a property buyer on the purchase of the property. Stamp duty is calculated differently in each Australian State, for information on the stamp duty rate in South Australia please visit the Revenue SA website at www.revenuesa.sa.gov.au/taxes-and-duties/stamp-duties/real-property-land

Healthcare and private health insurance

Different types of visas carry different health insurance requirements, so it's important to check and understand your visa conditions.

Permanent visa holders are entitled to Medicare, the Australian Government's health insurance scheme that gives you and your family access to a range of medical services for free or significantly subsidised. To apply for a Medicare card please contact the Australian Government Department of Human Services website: www.humanservices.gov.au/individuals/subjects/medicare-services

If you are a temporary visa holder, you will not be eligible for Medicare, unless you are from a country with a reciprocal health care agreement. Even minor medical procedures or visits to the doctor can be costly. It is strongly recommended that you take up private health insurance and choose a policy that suits your family's circumstances.

Ambulance services are not free and can be very expensive; you should seriously consider Ambulance cover as a top priority. Some health covers also cover ambulance costs

You will need to study and compare insurance products from different private health insurance providers and make the choice which best suits your needs and situation. Please make sure you understand what you sign.

Please note that the above is only a reference, for more information please contact health insurance providers.

For more information visit: www.privatehealth.gov.au/

To find out more about the Australian Government's reciprocal health care agreement visit: www.humanservices.gov.au/individuals/services/medicare/reciprocal-health-care-agreements

General health services

For information on health issues and support services visit:

- ▶ General Health information is available through the SA Health website: www.sahealth.sa.gov.au/
- ▶ Healthdirect - or phone the 24/7 hotline on 1800 022 222

Finding a doctor

To find a local General Practice or pharmacy, including those that are open after hours, visit the Healthdirect service finder or visit Adelaide PHN Adelaide After Hours service finder.

Health Information

GP Plus clinics provide general practice services and access to a range of other services for people in the community. This includes a walk-in clinic to see a doctor.

GP Plus Health Care Centres and GP Plus Super Clinics work closely with general practice and other services to better respond to the health needs of local communities. They complement the services offered by general practice, and help people take control of their own health care, stay healthy and to avoid unnecessary hospitalisation.

Hospitals

SA Health provides eight modern hospitals across metropolitan Adelaide, delivering high quality health care to South Australians. Details of these hospitals are available on the SA Health website under Metropolitan Hospitals.

There are hospitals and health services in rural South Australian who work to provide the best health care solutions available outside of metropolitan region. Details can be found by visiting SA Health website under Country Hospitals with search options to find services available in your local area/town.

Emergency services

In life-threatening or urgent situations dial Triple Zero (000).

This is the emergency number to contact police, fire, and ambulance.

Ambulance

SA Ambulance Service is the primary provider of ambulance services in the state. It provides:

- ▶ emergency ambulance services
- ▶ emergency medical patient care, treatment and transport
- ▶ non-urgent patient care and transport.

Ambulance costs aren't covered by Medicare, and even if you have private health insurance, your policy may not cover the cost of an ambulance.

SA Ambulance Service offers ambulance cover state-wide, 24 hours a day, seven days a week. Find out how to apply for ambulance cover on the SA Ambulance Service website or phone 1300 136 272.

Police

The purpose of SA Police (SAPOL) is to:

- ▶ uphold the law
- ▶ preserve the peace
- ▶ prevent crime
- ▶ assist the public in emergency situations
- ▶ coordinate and manage responses to emergencies
- ▶ regulate road use and prevent road accidents.

Find your local police station by visiting: www.police.sa.gov.au/contact-us/find-your-local-police-station

Apply for a Tax File Number

Everyone who has savings in a bank account or receiving income in Australia needs a Tax File Number (TFN). Income includes wages or salary from a job, money earned from investments and government payments. You can register over the internet 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Otherwise, you can fill in an application form. If you choose to apply online, keep the reference number and your TFN will be posted to you within 28 days.

Be sure to advise your bank of your TFN to avoid higher rates of taxation on interest earned.

Please note that the above is only a reference, for more information, please contact the Australian Taxation Office (ATO):

Tax File Number registration: www.ato.gov.au/individuals

Open a bank account

It is recommended that you open a bank account as soon as possible. Banking records may be useful as a reference when you are looking for rental accommodation, getting a mobile phone and more.

It is highly recommended that you contact different providers and compare their services and charges so that you can choose the one that best suits your needs. There are quite a few banking providers in South Australia with language support. Please note that it is possible to change banks at any time if their services no longer meet your needs.

It is advisable to open a bank account within six weeks of your arrival, as you usually need only your passport as identification. Please contact the bank for further details regarding the additional identification.

There are some banks in Adelaide that offer business migrant focused services and language support, please check with the bank branches if you need specific services.

For more information visit: www.jobsearch.gov.au/serviceproviders

Private employment and recruitment agencies and career advisers

There are many private employment and recruitment agencies in South Australia who find candidates for employers. While most cover most industries, some specialise in certain industries, for example, finance, information technology, engineering, or trades. Be aware that private employment/recruitment agencies are paid by employers, and as a jobseeker, you do not have to pay agencies at all and should never use any recruitment agency who asks you for any payment. To find local agencies, conduct a search for 'recruitment/employment agencies Adelaide'.

If you require intensive job preparation support, you should seek the services of private career practitioners who can assist you manage your career and find job opportunities. They usually charge a fee for their service, so make sure that before you solicit their business, you ask questions about their credentials and experience working with skilled migrants. For a list of registered career practitioners visit the Career Development Association of Australia website at: www.cdaa.org.au

10 Cost of living

Your money will also go much further in Adelaide. Statistics show it costs 21% more to live in Melbourne and 23% more to live in Sydney than Adelaide. Adelaide is around 4% cheaper than Brisbane and Perth (2014 Economist Intelligence Unit).

It is recommended that individuals budget between $30,000 and $40,000 for annual living costs in South Australia. This estimate will increase if individuals are accompanied by partners and children.

Expenses quoted in the table below should be used as a guide only.

Average weekly living costs in Adelaide

Expense	Weekly	Monthly
Accommodation (shared or single)	$120 - $380	$480 - $1520

12 Childcare and education

In South Australia, there are a range of early childhood care options available to support working parents. There is a choice of government, private or community child care services including registered child care and early learning centres, family day care, out of school hours care, and kindergartens.

To search for a child care centre near you please visit: www.sa.gov.au/topics/education-and-learning/early-childhood-education-and-care/child-care-options

You may be eligible for financial assistance to help with the child care and education costs. For more information please visit: www.sa.gov.au/topics/education-and-learning/financial-help-scholarships-and-grants/payments-and-financial-support-schemes

In some areas of Adelaide there is a high demand for child care, therefore you may experience limited availability. To maximise your chances of getting child care, we recommend that you register as soon as possible after arrival at a number of child care centres, as waiting lists may be very long.

In South Australia, it is compulsory for children to be in full-time schooling from the ages of 6 to 16, and students aged 16 must be in an approved learning program until they turn 17. You can choose to send your children to one of the three education systems in South Australia, government, independent or Catholic schools.

For further information on schooling options and how to enrol in school, please visit: www.sa.gov.au/topics/education-and-learning/schools

Information about government schools visit the Department for Education website: www.education.sa.gov.au

Community participation

Connecting to the broader South Australian community after arriving, is an important aspect of settlement which ensures social cohesion for new migrants and the general community.

Not only is community participation essential for the social and emotional wellbeing of new migrants, but it also helps new migrants build up connections, personal and professional networks.

Volunteering

Volunteering can help to improve community connections, self-confidence and provides new migrants with an opportunity to showcase their skills and experience that can improve job opportunities.

To register as a volunteer contact community organisations such as your local community groups or clubs, your children's school, not-for-profit organisations, local government, specialised volunteer organisations such as Volunteer SA and NT, your local volunteer resource centre such as Northern Volunteering SA and Southern Volunteering SA, and emergency services.

For more information about volunteering opportunities please visit:

www.volunteering-sa-nt.org.au

www.sa.gov.au/topics/family-and-community/volunteering/finding-opportunities

Community events

You can be an active community member by ensuring you look out for local events, support your local sports team, shop locally, join a class or a group, etc. Your local library or council can be a good starting point to access information about what is going on in your local community.

Multicultural SA events: www.harmony.gov.au/events/calendar
